Unfrocked Rabbi Attached to Presbyterian Church, Discovered and Exposed. He Sues Editor Silber for Libel.

New Orleans (J.T.A.).—Judah Ellenbogen-Tillinger, former rabbi of Jacob Schiff Center, the Bronx, who was unfrocked by a committee of Orthodox rabbis in New York, February 19th last, following sensational disclosures that in Austria previous to his arrival in the United States, he had turned priest, and had written a series of articles supporting the medieval blood libel against Jews during the famous Leopold Hilsner trial, has made his appearance in New Orleans and has again leaped into notoriety.

Tillinger is suing Dr. Mendel Silber, New Orleans rabbi and editor of "The Jewish Ledger," for libel following the publication by this paper of the story of the unfrocked rabbi.

The discovery of Dr. Tillinger's presence in New Orleans was made by Dr. Silber, whose suspicions were aroused when he was informed that a man claiming to be a rabbi was a regular attendant at services in a Presbyterian church and was closely connected with the minister of that church.

Dr. Silber's investigations revealed that the rabbi was none other than Tillinger. At the time of the investigation, Tillinger was trying to obtain a passport from the Brazilian consul here, claiming that he had the assurance of obtaining a rabbinical position in the South American republic.

When the minister of the Presbyterian Church learned that Dr. Silber was investigating the matter, he called on the editor and admitting Tillinger's identity, sought to convince him that Tillinger was innocent of the charges of which he had been convicted at the rabbinical trial in New York. A meeting was arranged between Dr. Silber, the Presbyterian minister and Tillinger himself. At that meeting, Tillinger flatly denied that he had ever forsaken the Jewish religion or that he had written articles justifying blood accusations, or that he had ever known anything of the Hilsner case, in which a blood allegation was involved.

When Dr. Silber confronted Tillinger with copies of Austrian newspapers in which the charges against Tillinger were contained, he mumbled confused and unintelligible phrases, declaring that the articles were untrue.

When asked about his New York trial, he charged that it was all a frame-up by atheists and Bolsheviks to ruin him because of his deep devotion to the Jewish faith.

Dr. Silber then pointed out to him that his trial had been conducted by a committee of the Union of Orthodox Rabbis, who represented "the very antithesis of atheism and Bolshevism," and informed Tillinger that he was not satisfied with his defense, adding that he would continue his exposure of him. The exposure appeared in "The Jewish Ledger" for Friday, July 20th, and is as follows:

"For some time past New Orleans has had the distinction, though unknown to the community, of harboring the most contemptible, the most despicable creature on God's earth. The damnable scoundrel whose false testimony sent an innocent man to prison and kept him there almost a lifetime; the deceitful wretch who had swindled Christians in the garb of a priest and Jews in the guise of a rabbi fled from New York recently and came to New Orleans. Here he has been jobnobbing with the Presbyterians, and a reputable Presbyterian minister, unbelievable as it may seem, knowing the past of this miserable hypocrite, is working in his behalf and is aiding and encouraging him in his treacherous conduct.

"The motive behind the Presbyterian minister who, as an honorable and intelligent man, can have only the most abhorrent contempt for a creature of that sort, but who nevertheless fraternizes with him, is no other, of course, than the hope of catching some Jewish souls through the deceiver's instrumentality. This in itself is the clearest proof of the unscrupulousness to which certain men and ministers are led by their missionary zeal; of the utter disregard for matters of conscience where missionary methods are concerned. It is the clearest proof also of the extent to which missionary zeal often dulls and cripples men's psychological powers. To imagine that any Jew would for a moment heed the enticing voice and words of a bogus priest-rabbi is the height of absurdity. To suppose that an individual whose flagrant rascality has been proven in public could catch Jewish souls into the Presbyterian fold is to be blinded by missionary zeal to the point of criminal credulity.

"We have not the least desire to protect our Presbyterian friends against the villainous designs of their new missionary. We think it only right to let their own experience convince them of their folly. And we doubt not that it will, not even now, while making them of their good sheaves, their missionaries. We are really surprised to planning to go to South America and make more attempt to cheat and swindle some Jewish congregation in the guise and garb of a rabbi.

"In the meantime, the great sin that was caused by Tillinger's exposure in New York five months ago, now re-echoing in New Orleans and the pure rabbi, now without a beard but still in the garb of a minister, is continuing to ruin his deceiver and to cast a critical eye with the aid and under the protection of a Presbyterian pastor.

DR. MARMOREK, ZIONIST AND SCIENTIST DEAD

Paris (J.T.A.).—Dr. Alexander Marmorek, noted physician and distinguished Zionist, died at his home early Friday morning. According with his last wishes, no eulogies were delivered at the funeral which was held Sunday. The only services to mark the obsequies were the recital of the Kaddish by his brothers.

The Pasteur Institute of Paris was represented at the funeral by the Provost Mesnil. The World Zionist Organization was represented by Leo Motzkin.

Others at the funeral included M. Sliosberg, Hillel Zlatopolski, M. Allenkoff, M. Fischer of Holland and M.

Ornstein, representing the Belgian Zionists.

The Zionist Executive today telegraphed the widow of Dr. Marmorek offering condolences. "The whole Zionist world," the message reads, "will long cherish your husband's pioneer services and ceaseless devotion to the cause."

SWEDISH KING AND EINSTEIN ENJOY CHAT

Gottlieb, Sweden (J.T.A.).—Professor Einstein delivered an address here before a scientific body on his theory of relativity. Among those present was King Gustaf. Following the lecture the Swedish monarch engaged in a long chat with the Jewish scientist.

Gang of Torah Thieves Operating in Poland

Warsaw (J.T.A.).—The police are on the trail of what is believed to be an organized gang of Sepher Torah thieves. More than sixty scrolls of the law, and of the Megillah have been stolen lately from Polish synagogues and, according to information of the police, sold to Americans.

Several of the thieves are under arrest. It is believed the gang consisted of four groups, one of which made it its task to ascertain where the scrolls could be stolen, another group did the actual stealing, and a third group located at Danzig had charge of the negotiations for the sale of the religious articles, while a fourth supervised their export to America.

Berlin (J.T.A.).—Charges that the Red Army is permeated throughout with anti-Semitism are made in a local Russian paper, "Rul."

The writer, a counter-revolutionary general named Frisne, quoting from alleged Russian army official records, asserts that the Soviet General Worosilow was forced to withdraw appointments of Jews as army officers because of the opposition of Red troops.

Berlin (J.T.A.).—The Munich police department has issued an order prohibiting the wearing of "provoking political emblems."

The move is understood to be directed against the Hakenkreuzler display of the anti-Semitic "swastika" emblem.

The National Socialists and the Fascisti are very much wrought up over the order.

A Weakening of Agency Favored by British Leaders

Change Due to Judge Mack, Is Rumor

London (J.T.A.).—A changed attitude toward the Jewish Agency for Palestine is reported here to have developed among some of the leaders of British Jewry.

Ab. Goldberg of the American Zionist Administration has held conferences with Sir Robert Waley Cohen, D'Avigdor Goldsmith, Nathan Laski, and others. Some of these notables are said to have modified their position to the Agency, favoring a weakening of the body and proposing that it become after a fashion a clearing house for all bodies working in the economic sphere for the upbuilding of Palestine.

According to reports, the change in the attitude of these notables is due to representations of Judge Julian Mack of New York, president of the Palestine Development Council, who has been in London recently.

James de Rothschild, whom Mr. Goldberg also conferred with, is said to be sympathetic to the original Agency idea. He would join, if his father, Baron Edmond de Rothschild consented, in the opinion of Goldberg, who is proceeding to Paris to confer with the Baron.

SOLIS COHEN ADVOCATES USE OF CARBONATED BEVERAGES

Do you know that a properly carbonated beverage is safer to drink than ordinary drinking water or a beverage made without carbonation?

Carbon dioxide gas has a definite purifying effect which tends to stop the formation of bacteria, making a safe drink.

Solis Cohen is authority for the statement that carbon dioxide excites an increased peristaltic action of the stomach and intestines; as well as an increased secretion of the intestinal juices, exerting also a stimulating effect on the central organs of the circulation and upon the nervous system generally.

Among the leaders of carbonated beverages are the wholesome and delightfully refreshing Ward's CRUSHES. These are bottled in three flavours, Orange, Lemon and Lime by the Orange Crush Bottlers, Limited.

The water used in preparing these drinks is carefully filtered and purified by an electric ozone sterilizer, besides being carbonated. It is therefore evident that these popular soft drinks are as safe to drink as it is possible to make a beverage.

From the time that the ingredients are mixed in carefully sterilized vessels until the bottles are tightly sealed by automatic machinery, every precaution is taken to insure a clean, pure, wholesome and delicious drink.

In the belief that people want to know what they are drinking, the makers of the famous CRUSHES have given the same publicity to the ingredients of their products that they have given to any of their other qualities.

IGNORING THE RANK AND FILE

There have just come to hand the minutes of the last meeting of the National Council of the Zionist Organization of Canada, which was held on July 10th. At this meeting, attended as usual principally by the Montreal members, and one or two from Ottawa, the delegates to the 13th Congress at Carlsbad were elected and a resolution carried accepting in principle the proposals to the 13th Zionist Congress, which were adopted by the American Zionist Organization at their annual Convention at Baltimore. These proposals deal with the Jewish Agency.

This question of the Jewish Agency is to be the principal issue before the forthcoming Zionist Congress. Discussion on it has raged high for months all over the Jewish world. The Zionists are split up into almost warlike factions on differences of opinion regarding it, yet the Zionist Organization of Canada, which stands second in point of contributions and remittances for Palestine in the list of 55 countries having Zionist Federations, adopts the proposals without the baggage the proposals fought out after a bitter struggle by the U.S.A. organization at the Baltimore Convention, without giving the members of the National Council, who live outside of Montreal and Ottawa, even an inkling of knowledge that the question was coming up, or an opportunity of presenting their point of view. Surely there exist differences of opinion among the members of the National Council on this very crucial issue of the Jewish Agency! Surely in a democratic organization, such as the Canadian Zionist Federation, the claims to be members of the National Council should at least be informed that a special meeting is to be held at which this most important question is to be discussed. In view of their being outside members they should have been given an opportunity to submit their views in writing.

The reason, of course, why this was not done. We hate to believe that the leaders felt the matter so unimportant as not to bother with asking the members, or perhaps our leaders, not having any sense of their own imagination that what is good enough for the U.S.A. Zionist Federation should be good enough for us in Canada. The sort of intellectual dependence and subservency which has been shown by the Montreal office in other respects, and we see no reason why matters of this kind should be made to depend on the whims of a few should be made to depend on the whims of a few.

It is very much like another instance of the good old "Montreal attitude" towards the Canadian Jewish community.

DELEGATES TO THE ZIONIST CONGRESS

While we are on the subject of Zionist affairs, we wish "to get something off of our chest" which has been there for some time. And that is in regard to the delegates and the election or appointment of delegates to the forthcoming Zionist Congress. The constitution of the Zionist World Organization provides for the election of delegates by shekel payers, each country being entitled to one delegate for every so many paid-up shekolim, and the appointment of a prescribed number of delegates by the Zionist Federation. The intention is to have each country represented by its most active and representative Zionist leaders and Wortsfuhrer (spokesmen). Canada, we believe, is entitled to six delegates. Canadian Zionists are the second largest contributors of funds. It is certainly to be expected that we will be represented by our most active Canadian minds.

Is this the case?

In looking over the list of delegates, we discover that of the six, only one is a Canadian, two are Americans, one is English, one is Russian and the other a Palestinian. These people are lacking mandates from their own countries, and they, knowing that Canada is entitled to six delegates and is only to be represented by one of its members, under these circumstances signified a willingness to go with Canadian Zionist passports as it were. All are excellent men and good active Zionists. But is this the best way of having the Canadian Zionists represented and of presenting the Canadian point of view?

If we should ask why are there not more Canadian delegates, we would be told that there is nobody in Canada, excepting one who has planned to go to Europe on a honeymoon or pleasure or business trip at this particular time.

The Zionist Organization, it will be said, has never refused a mandate to any tourist who wished to take in the Zionist Congress and incidentally to represent us there.

If the consequences were not so tragic, the situation could really be considered humorous. Just think of having the Zionist Organization of Canada, the second leading Zionist Federation of the world represented by any Tom, Dick and Harry who signifies his willingness to take a pleasure trip to Europe. It must seem to our European brethren who take their Zionism very seriously and who elect their delegates carefully, and who in spite of their depreciated currency and economic poverty, pay their delegates' expenses, it must, we repeat, seem to them as if America takes its Zionism with the same indifference and levity as it takes all matters cultural and spiritual.

Similar conditions seem to prevail across the line in the American Zionist Federation. We fail to see among the list of American delegates leaving for Carlsbad the names of Zionists whom we suspect will not be in Carlsbad on account of the usual poor man's excuse.

What sort of representation, we ask, can the two most important Zionist Federations in the world have, when representation at a Zionist Congress depends on whether or not you have the price. It is not hard work, devotion to the cause, a knowledge of Zionism, Judaism and Jewry that count, but your pocket book which is the determining factor.

We seem to have money for Zionist propaganda, for administration, etc., etc., but when it comes to the most important business, of all, Zionist business, the shaping of the proper policies and selecting the right people to guide the most important cause of world Jewry, we stint to cover at least the transportation expenses of the delegates who deserve the honour, and are truly representative, but who happen not to be able to afford the price of a European trip. It is the delegate who is sent, and who goes because he is sent, that is willing to neglect his livelihood, and who would attend a Zionist Congress with the same zeal and interest that a rich man goes to an important Board meeting of a concern in which he has much of his capital invested.

It is extremely discouraging for the Zionist of the rank and file to realize that what we have described truly represents the condition of affairs. Is it not high time the Canadian Federation of Zionists considers a change in its method of sending delegates to the Zionist Congress? What we say of the Zionist Congress applies with equal force to our Canadian Zionist Conventions.

Toronto women, a few each week, have quietly built up our now tremendous list of customers, after reasoning that the family wash could get better than home treatment at our hands at a cost that is trifling. These women are loyal customers, week in and week out. "Semi-finished" is the popular form of laundry work with them. If you would try it, phone,

"Sometimes when people censure me,
I tell them without rancour
That for what it cost me to be free
I might have had an anchor."

American Baptists and Methodists, in separate conventions, recently adopted two similar resolutions that are enough to make the gods clasp their knees and rock back and forth in loud laughter. Both resolutions evidently have to do with the lynch law in the South, although both studiously refrain from mentioning Negroes or the Ku Klux Klan, so that both gods and men must know the news from the South in order to understand the text of the resolutions. The Baptists, in that mild, sanctimonious manner esoteric to the general run of Goyish preachers, "cannot but hope that all our pastors and churches will studiously refrain from giving approval or support to procedure that can possibly encourage disorder in any form."

Of course it would be unlike these ministers to enjoin one another to stand up in their pulpits and blow such blasts from the trumpet of social justice as would call all together in protest against "disorder in any form." In some neighbourhoods the bodies of ministers are no more immune to tar and feathers than are those of any lay members of their flocks, and it might take economic pressure to bring down from the pulpits denunciation against the practice of lynching. Such economic pressure, for example, as might come from wealthy cotton mill owners frightened at the prospect of the great negro exodus from the South, where society and prosperity are built upon Negro labour.

The Methodists, through their Mission Board, are a little less conservative than the Baptists. They want to register their sorrows over the crime of brutal murder by mobs so frequently occurring throughout our beloved land, not only because of the unrighteousness of such deeds, and the defiance of the law, but also because of the reflection upon our Christianity in the eyes of pagan peoples. "All these years the clergy, especially that part of it operating down South, has been very quiet about the unrighteousness of persecuting the blacks, but now its members screw up their courage, gather themselves into a valiant band and 'register their sorrows' for the particular reason, probably, that it is hard to conduct the missionizing business abroad just as usual when the people at home out-pagan the pagans."

The father of a junior student at one of the great colleges writes us concerning an unfortunate incident, which, he fears, will estrange his son further from Judaism. The father had heard what he terms a splendid sermon on "The Ethics of the Fathers." He had never before heard of this unusual tractate of the Mishna. So he purchased a copy, with English translation and commentary, and sent the book to his son. Follows part of the son's letter: "I curled up on the couch and began to read 'The Ethics.' When I reached page 14 however, I executed the best shot of my life. The book landed squarely in the waste basket, and there it shall remain until the morning when the janitor will clear it away with the rest of the rubbish. The commentator (you say he is a modern rabbi) actually teaches that the Pentateuch and the traditions that center around it were extant in the times of the Judges; that prophetic Judaism was the same in the days of Moses and Joshua as it was in the days of the Prophets; that the Torah was dictated by God to Moses and Moses laid Tefillin. You don't expect me to believe such stuff, do you, dad? The only advice we have to offer the young man is that he himself, believes these things, and insists upon enjoining them on his son, that son will be lost to Judaism. The father who makes such statements in a commentary on 'The Ethics' is not only without sense that he is alive today, religiously he belongs to the long dead. The college man's intellect and common sense cannot be so easily conform to the old theology. The son's parents and college should stand and acknowledge this fact; the son will, by so doing, cope with the problem of holding the college man against the old Judaism. —'The American Hebrew.'"

Rivka says: "Then there's that other mystery about people who have to play cards with their backs to gorgeous sunsets instead of doing that at home."

WINNIPEG

YOUNG JUDAEA

A "Sport and Fun Day" was held at Kenora Park on Sunday, July 15, 1923. A program of sports was run off, in which everybody participated. The baseball game between the Senior and Junior Circles was won by the David Wolfson Circle. The volley ball game between Habsinim and Judaeans was won by Habsinim after a hard fight. Mr. Max Chereover was in charge of the sports and was assisted by Mr. Ralph Robinson. Miss Clara Pall presided over the picnic feast which was well arranged by the refreshment committee under the leadership of Miss Rose Pearlmuter. Community singing was followed by dancing in the large pavilion at the park.

In honor of Miss Bessie Levine, one of their members, the Nordau Young Judaea entertained at a farewell party at 613 Alfred Avenue on Wednesday, July 18, 1923. Miss Levine, who is leaving this week for Pittsburgh, was presented with a token of the good wishes of her circle and in appreciation of her work in Young Judaea activities. Miss Rose Apter, president of the Nordau Young Judaea, made the presentation and Miss C. Pall, president of the Judaea Council, followed with a brief address.

Preparations are being made for a lawn here to be held sometime in August.

A general collection of the proceeds of National Fund boxes, which were distributed by the Young Judaeans, will be made on July 29.

On account of the summer term little literary activities are being carried on. The Jewish history study circles and the Hebrew group, however, are still meeting. Extensive plans are being made for the fall in the study of the Talmud, Jewish history, Hebrew, dramatics, Jewish literature, etc. Plans are also being made for a strong campaign for the Judaea magazine subscriptions. It is also intended to inaugurate a system of selling their stamps for Jewish Colonial Trust stamps.

HABOINIM

Haboinim held a picnic meeting on Sunday, July 15, 1923, at Kenora Park. Mr. E. A. Shanas, the president, was chairman. A great deal of business was transacted. It was reported that a considerable number of them had been and during the campaign for the Herzl Forest by Haboinim members. It was decided to take part in the collection of proceeds of National Fund boxes to take place Sunday, July 29. Mr. Shanas announced his proposed departure from town at the end of the month. This announcement was received with much regret as he has been active in Zionist work in Winnipeg and was one of those instrumental in forming Haboinim which has made such marvellous and rapid progress since its organization. Mr. N. Schiffer, the honorary president, addressed the members and called for cooperation and enthusiasm for the work.

as merchandise is a misnomer. Can a printed label be compared with an axe, for instance? The label carries a parcel across the continent or around the world, telling each handler from whence to where. The axe is useful too, but only to the immediate user. Printing is direction, information and intelligence. Its appeal is to the educated mind. And do not forget that every educated mind is derived from what printing has taught it.

Once again the annual picnic given to the children of the Jewish Orphanage by the Girls' Auxiliary took place Sunday, July 15, at the Montefiore club camp grounds and the eagerness with which the children have been looking forward to this event left nothing to be desired. The children were conveyed to the grounds in motor cars kindly loaned by various people and the day was most enjoyably spent in sports of all kinds, following which supper was served and about eight o'clock the tired but happy crowd were taken back to the home. Balls, balloons and toys were distributed among all the children too young to run in the races, also among the small kiddies who raced but who were not fortunate enough to win a prize. The winners of the prizes for the girls' races consisted of the following: Sophie Bell, Florence Lowey, Rae Tolpin, Ida Schwartz, Martha Balbert, Fanny Balbert, Annie Cordin and Susie Osofsky, and for the boys' races the prize winners were George Ackerman, Isaac Harrison, Dave Gillman, Harry Lowey, Bobby Osofsky, Willie Klein, Sam Lowie and Harry Lowie.

The executive of the Girl's Auxiliary wishes to take this opportunity to thank all those who were instrumental in making this affair such a huge success.

Goldsmith is chairman of the picnic committee and plans are being made for a very entertaining day. This picnic is open to the community and it is hoped that a large crowd will take advantage of this day's outing. Special busses will meet the trains at the Beach station to convey those attending to the camp grounds, the busses also taking those present back to the station at night.

The H.A.A.U. are taking charge of the athletic sports and a ladies' committee has been appointed to be in charge of the refreshment booths.

Miss Goldie Simenstien, who is here on her vacation from Edmonton, has offered her services as companion to the girls of the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Halter, J.P., and family left for their summer home at Winnipeg Beach, where they will remain for the rest of the season.

SAYS JEWS ARE BLAMED WHATEVER THEY DO

London (J.T.A.)—No good ever came to any nation from crucifying the Jews," Lloyd George declares in a vigorous attack on anti-Semitism and an equally spirited defense of Zionism appearing in an article by him in the London "Daily Telegraph" of today.

The Jews, says Lloyd George, are blamed for whatever they do or are. "If they are rich, the Jews are called vultures; if poor, vermin. If they favor war, they are pro-war profiteers; if against war, pro-peace cowards and traitors. If labor is oppressed, Jewish capital is held responsible; if on the other hand, labor revolts as in Russia, it is also the Jews' fault."

"In strange countries, the Jews are persecuted, and in our own country, they are barred from returning."

Passing to the Palestine question, Lloyd George says "Under the Jews, the country once numbered five millions, while under the Turks, the population was less than seven hundred thousand. The once glorious state has been spoiled by centuries of neglect, but the country still has immense possibilities."

"The restoration of Palestine," he declares, "was started not by the Balfour Declaration but by Moses Montefiore."

"The Jews have turned the swamps of Palestine," the article continues, "into valuable lands and by irrigation and reservoiring the rainfall, have converted a desert into a garden."

"The Arabs share this prosperity. Arabs have neither means, energy nor ambition necessary to do this, and the British are too burdened to undertake it."

"The Balfour Declaration," he concludes, "was not intended to expropriate Arabs but to enable Jews to come back. The Jews demand no privileges not enjoyed by the other inhabitants of Palestine. They ask only equality and an opportunity to peacefully upbuild a national home by their own exertions."

OFFERS PRIZE FOR NOVEL ON PALESTINE LIFE

Berlin (J.T.A.)—The Berlin "Acht Uhr Blatt" carries a report that James Rothschild has offered a prize for the best novel dealing with life in the new Palestine.

The paper suggests that the competition be open to non-Jews as well as Jews.

A DAY WITH THE BOYS

The Jewish Community of Toronto have had for the last four years a camp for boys during the summer holidays. This camp is kept up by private donations from those of the Jewish Community that can afford it. The purpose of this camp is to give the boys of those families who cannot afford a regular vacation, a two weeks' outing on the lake shore where they may be built up by plenty of play and good food.

A very able camp committee of five, namely: Mr. R. Raphael, Mr. M. M. Cohen, Mr. S. Kaufman, Mr. I. Markus and Mr. A. Cohen have control of the camp. Mr. Mort. L. Levy as chairman and Mr. Wm. Gittes as secretary of the financial committee are some of the hard-working supporters of the camp.

This year's camp is situated on the lake shore directly south from Lakeview at Stop 35 on the Hamilton Highway. It has a splendid piece of bathing beach adjoining it, where the boys can frolic and splash. On a huge flat field above the beach is situated the camp. It is composed of approximately fourteen tents, laid out in a semi-circle. Of these fourteen tents, ten are sleeping tents, named after the tribes of Israel, a medical tent and that of the officers of the day complete one side, and the mess tent and store-room the other.

At this time there are approximately eighty boys between the ages of seven and fourteen at the camp. As a rule they are undersized and undernourished, but the committee hopes that by means of this two weeks' vacation, with plenty of good food, fresh air and play, they will be helped along the road to better health. These boys are sent home at the end of two weeks, and a new group brought out. During the summer about four groups are sent to the camp.

Between the tents or tribes there is a great deal of rivalry as to which is the best tent. There is a system of merit and demerit marks. Marks are awarded for neatness, promptness and willingness, and taken away for vice versa. At the end of each day, the captain of the tent having the most points, to his credit receives a badge, which he proudly wears for the next day. Next evening he must hand it to the captain of the next winning tent. If a tent wins the badge three times in succession it receives a special permanent award. At the end of two weeks, the tent having the most points receives a handsome trophy presented by one of the committee.

The parents of the boys need not fear anything not strictly kosher, as besides being a Jewish camp it has its own Jewish cook.

The following is an average schedule for a day: At 7.00, amid yawns and groans the boys roll out or are rolled out. They then air their blankets, have physical drill and then rush down to the shore where they hesitatingly take their morning plunge. They then dress and at 8.30 breakfast is ready. Right after breakfast tents are cleaned of every piece of paper and the beds are neatly made. At 9.45 the tents are inspected. From 10 to 11.30 baseball and other games are played, and athletics and first aid. At 11.30 the boys go in for a swim. At 12.30 the call comes for dinner. From 1 to 2.15 the boys must rest on their cots. From 2.15 to 4.30 is a free period, during which the boys play ball or do anything they wish. At 4.30 there is swimming. Supper is ready at 5.30. At 7 o'clock a council ring is held on the beach. Here a bonfire is lit and the boys group around and there is a sing-song and stunts are performed. At 8.45 after singing "God Save Our King" and "Hati-kvah" everybody goes to bed, and all lights go out at 9.15, completing a day replete with activities dear to boys' hearts.

ORION

The Orion Club held a picnic at Scarborough Heights Park, Saturday, July 21.

CANADIAN JEWISH REVIEW:

It was a wonderful evening, one which I will remember during my life, that visit of last night to the Jewish Boys' Camp.

I arrived there in the evening, the boys, seventy-three in all, had just had their supper, and were resting in their tents. Their ages ranged from nine to fourteen, and what a wonderful time they were having! They grouped together and had a sing-song. Their mentors gave them little talks on things they should learn and know, after which they had a competition in different athletic sports. And how these boys enjoyed themselves! Their little faces beamed. To get away from darkness into wonderful sunshine is what they all dreamed. If the Jewish community did anything worth while, this Jewish Boys' Camp at Stop 35, certainly is worth while.

These little boys would never have a chance if it wasn't for the Camp. I asked them all if they wanted to go home, and outside of one little nipper, who possibly for the first time had left his mother, they all wanted to stay for quite a long while.

We have applications for two hundred and more who want to go to the Camp. Give what you can, either small or large; it will be appreciated by the Camp Committee. The Camp will close for want of funds, so hurry up and don't be shy. Mr. Edmund Scheuer is waiting to receive your donation.

Don't forget it is Stop 35 on the highway. Go out and see for yourself, and then we will ask you whether or not you think this work is worth while.

Yours sincerely,

RALPH RAPHAEL,
President, Big Brother Movement,
Jewish Branch.

SIMCOE STREET TALMUD TORAH PICNIC

Levine and members of the Talmud Torah League. The children, who numbered two hundred and fifty, were given a bag of fruit after the picnic on their departure for home. Races helped to make the day a happy one. Prizes were donated by Mrs. Kling, the Dominion Toy and Abe Levine. Through the efforts of Mrs. I. H. Siegel, the Scarborough Beach Park and amusements were opened free for the children. Supper was served by the committee for school teachers and helpers. The committee wish to thank all those who helped to make the affair a success. The Star Fresh Air Fund supplied street cars for the transportation of the children to and from the picnic.

MONTREAL

Only recently the Jewish community of Montreal lost a well beloved member in the person of Mr. Lawrence Tannenbaum, who died in an automobile accident. On July 11th we sustained a further loss when the automobile in which Mr. Max Adelstein was driving, turned into a ditch and pinned the driver under the car. Mr. Adelstein was near Lacolle on his way to Old Orchard Beach, where his wife—formerly Miss Sophie Gittleman—was to spend the summer, when the accident occurred while he was trying to dodge another automobile. Messrs. Ben Joseph and Philip Joseph, who were in the car with Mr. Adelstein, were seriously injured, the former suffering a fracture of the left thigh and the latter sustaining internal injuries. Both injured men are at the Royal Victoria Hospital and are reported to be improving.

Mr. Phil Joseph as the President of the Judean League of Canada—in which capacity he succeeded his brother, Barney Joseph, who is now in Palestine—is extremely active in local Zionist circles. He is the organizer of many Judean clubs that look to him for direction and sympathy. It is to be hoped that Mr. Joseph will soon regain his health and resume his many activities.

Mr. M. Garber was entertained at a "stag" given in his honour by his friends at the Reform Club last Tuesday evening. Those present were: Messrs. Lazarus Phillips, who was toastmaster of the evening, Rupert Caplan, Joe Somer, Max Bernfeld, Dr. D. A. Mendel, Dr. J. Levitt, M. H. Myerson, Moe Brainin, Jos. Shapiro, J. The Sholem Nachem Club of the Yiddish Volk School on St. Urbain Street, has issued the fifth number of a magazine entitled "Blind Twigs." The literary contributions to this magazine by the children of this school are of a very high order and show more than a passing acquaintance with great names in the history of Yiddish and Hebrew literature. One has only to read, for example, the impressions of Judith Wogensberg on reading Sholem Asch, to appreciate that the children of the Yiddish School are not so much drilled in Yiddish literature and folklore as they are taught to love it, and loving it, to form their own judgment rather than accept the ready-made views that are usually handed out to
